

SUBJECT: PLSG. SEM: 4.

TOPIC: International Relation.

Sub Topic : Pluralist Theory in IR.

Teacher: Apurba mohan Mukhopadhyay.

PLURALIST THEORY:.

Basic Features :.

- 1). Pluralism is a branch of Liberal Theory in IR.
- 2) Pluralism actually thrives on sociological, institutional and Interdependence of Liberalism.
- 3) According to Pluralism, the state is not the monopoly actor in IR.
- 4) Non State Actors are also significant actors in IR.
- 5) The Pluralists highlights the growth of transnational forces and growing mutual Interdependence among states.
- 6) A dependent world is the product of a close connection between state and non state actor.
- 7) They predict peaceful transition of global system through International organizations and international regimes.

Leading Theorists : R.Little, O.R.Young, S.Hoffman, D.Nicholls.